RECOGNITION WALKWAY

In 1860, with a force of 1,089 volunteers (called "I Mille," "The Thousand"), General Giuseppe Garibaldi sailed from Genoa to Marsala, Sicily. Against overwhelming odds, he and his dedicated men fought their way north, initiating the movement that led to the creation of the Bell'Italia we know today. On March 17, 1861, the creation of a united Italian nation was proclaimed. In honor of the 150th anniversary of Italy, the Garibaldi-Meucci Museum launches, at the very place in America where General Garibaldi received refuge in 1850, The Recognition Walkway project to support the museum and to position it to meet the challenges of the future.
